Frank Bechemilh is a French German Author Composer Pianist and Singer.

He was born on the 12th February 1975 in Abidjan (Ivory Coast) .

At the age of 15 years old, living in Conakry (Guinea), he met the former members of Alpha BLONDY's Band, with whom he formed the band N.C.B. (New Conakry Band) as its keyboard player.

In the meantime, Frank performed in France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Belgium, the Middle East, and participated to many TV Shows in Europe singing with famous Pop Stars such as Patricia KAAS, Tina ARENA, Roch VOISINE, Francis CABREL, Michael JONES, Adamo, David HALLIDAY, Dany BRILLANT.

Frank Bechemilh 's music is influenced by POP music and artists such as Elton John, Billy Joel, William Sheller, Ray Charles.

At the same time as he performs his songs, Frank continues to experiment in new musical directions. In 2003 he recorded an album mixing Arabic instruments and music with electronic music. This new CD, "Diwan", became a French-Tunisian spectacle combining theatre, music and poetry about the meeting of East and West.

In 2006, he releases his second album entitled "Ce que je vauX" (Wild Palms Music) and becomes one of the most talented artists of his generation, singing during famous music Festivals in France (Rencontres d'Astaffort Festival with Francis Cabrel, Chantier des FRANCOFOLIES de La Rochelle Festival, En découverte Festival, Festival Européen des Bandas ...).

In addition to his musical career, Frank has a Masters Degree in Journalism and Communication. He is the author of a well-received thesis about African musical life in Brussels, which spells out his vision of music as a universal language, serving as a link among the world's peoples and a means of communication.

In recognition of this, Frank was chosen in 2004 to compose the music for the French made-for-TV movie entitled "L'Instit en Tunisie" which stars the famous French actor Gerard Klein, and broadcasted by FRANCE 2 TV, R.T.B.F TV, T.S.R. TV.

In 2007, Frank has composed and written the song "For the flame" in Homage to the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing (China), and has performed in Xiamen University in front of 5000 spectators.
